

Ish Rajendram

Board Member, Global
Alliance for the Project
Professions (GAPPS)

Member of the Program
Advisory Panel (Industry) at the University of Sydney's
John Grill Institute for Project Leadership.

Guest Lecturer, University of Technology, Sydney (UTS)

Bachelor of Science
(Mechanical Engineering) -
Imperial College, University of London.

Fujitsu's premier executive leadership course GOLD (Global Organisation Leadership Development).

ITIL V3 Certified.

Certified in Leading SAFe
Agile - Safe Agilist.

Senior Consultant and Facilitator

Ish Rajendram is a distinguished leader in program management, transformation initiatives, and PMO structures, with a celebrated track record of delivering superior outcomes across multifaceted organisational landscapes. Recognised for his expertise in negotiations, service delivery, outsourcing strategies, vendor relations, and leadership of diverse teams, Ish brings this invaluable experience to every project, course, and coaching session.

His career spans across sectors such as financial services, healthcare, transportation, and retail, establishing deep industry insights through strategic partnerships with leading organisations, including Westpac, Link Group, NSW Health, RailCorp, National Rail, Sydney Water, and Qantas. Ish has notably served as Director, PMO, General Manager, Group PMO, Client Services Director, and Management Consultant at Fujitsu Oceania since October 2000. Ish is currently on the board of the Global Alliance for the Project Professions (GAPPS).

Throughout his tenure at DMR Consulting and Fujitsu, Ish has excelled in senior governance and service delivery positions, recognised by the prestigious Fujitsu CEO Award. This acknowledgment underscores his commitment to excellence in project management, unwavering work ethic, and sharp business acumen.

Specialising in:

- Project and Program Management
- Strategic PMO Leadership
- Financial Management
- Stakeholder Engagement
- Risk Management
- Process and Technology Innovation