

Einion Thomas

Master of Project
Management, University of Technology Sydney

Bachelor of Architecture,
Architecture, University of Wales, Cardiff

Business Mentor, AIPM

Industry Leaders Group and Leadership Committee
Member, AIPM

Gateway Reviewer, NSW
Government

Facilitator & Consultant

Einion is an experienced Project Director with a proven track record in delivering major public and private capital projects. His expertise lies in planning, managing, and procuring complex projects across various sectors, including health, medical research, engineering, rail and environmental infrastructure, and others.

Einion is highly skilled in directing strategic projects, facilitating holistic solutions, and navigating diverse stakeholder interests. In recognition of his expertise and standing in the project management community, Einion is a NSW Gateway Reviewer, where he evaluates and provides guidance on major projects.

As a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Project Management and Certified Practising Project Director, Einion is committed to excellence in project management. He is passionate about developing people and fostering talent within the industry, ensuring that his teams are equipped with the skills and knowledge needed to excel.

His dedication to professional growth extends beyond his immediate team, evidenced by his long-standing involvement in industry mentoring programs facilitated by the AIPM. These roles underscore his commitment to delivering value for clients and contributing to building project management and leadership capability across the project professions.

Specialising in:

- Project & Program Management
- PMO set up and operations
- Leading teams and fostering boundary-spanning collaboration